Seek Decision on 'Truce' to Avert Railroad Strike

Hope to Follow Procedure Which Brought Peace to Steel Industry

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Labor W. Willard Wirtz is making a big effort to switch the railroad work rules dispute away from a threatened strike and onto the kind of a track that led to peace in the steel industry.

He has called for a decision Sunday on his unusual proposal for a temporary agreement, a two-year truce and study groups modeled after the steel industry's Human Relations Committee to search for a permanent solution.

The railroads and five operating unions—who have been fighting over work rules for four years—indicated they will study the matter thoroughly and give their answer in Wirtz' office Sunday.

That the unions' answer may be "no" was indicated Friday night in St. Louis when H. E. Gilbert, president of the AFL-CIO Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Engineers, labeled the proposal "unacceptable."

Gilbert said he spoke for himself and not the union, but added: "I don't see how the union can agree to it."

Emergency Bill
If the proposal is rejected, President Kennedy probably will send to Congress early next week emergency legislation to head off a nationwide rail strike, possibly calling for compulsory arbitration of the dispute.

The railroads have announced plans to put new work rules into effect when the present bargaining deadline is reached at midnight Wednesday. The rules would eliminate thousands of jobs which the railroads say are unnecessary and cost about $600 million. They call such jobs "featherbedding."

The unions claim present rules must be maintained for safe operation of the trains. They said Friday they will call an immediate strike if the new rules are put into effect.

Wirtz told a news conference Friday he had suggested that both sides agree to the terms laid down in May by a presidential emergency board for settlement of what he called "the two most

Vow Argentine Elections Will Be Held Sunday

Reject Peronist Bid to Postpone National Voting

Buenos Aires, Argentina (AP)—President Jose Maria Guido has rejected a Peronist bid to postpone national elections for one week and says voting will take place Sunday as scheduled.

Peronists, generally believed to have the backing of one-third of the nation's 11 million voters, charged the election has been rigged against them and ordered their followers to cast blank ballots in the compulsory voting.

Guido has barred key Peronist candidates from running. In a communique Friday night Guido said the decision to go ahead with the election was reached at a meeting with military leaders, who have prevented deposed dictator Juan D. Peron from returning to power. Although he has been in exile in Spain for eight years, Peron remains the most powerful factor in Argentine politics.

Return of Tyranny
Interior Minister Gen. Osiris Villegas declared in a radio-television address to the nation: "The return of the Peronist tyranny will definitely not be tolerated. In other words, if it is shown at the polls before or after the elections that such an attempt is being made, then we will take the necessary measures to prevent it, no matter what the difficulties."

Voting is for presidential elections. Electoral colleges will convene July 31 to name a president, vice president, provincial governors and other officials. One faction among the military who control the Guido regime feels Argentina is not ready for a return to democratic government. It prefers to wipe out huge debts and corruption in the next several years under a so-called democratic dictatorship.

African Groups Seeking Unity

DAR ES SALAAM, Tanganyika (AP) — The African Liberation Committee, meeting here since June 24, has decided to strive for unity between African nationalist fronts and to promote independence for remaining African colonies.

The committee declared its main purpose is to grant assistance to "common action fronts as distinct from parties."

Withdraw to Hills Near Moscow to Iron Out Flaming Ideological Feud

MOSCOW (AP)—Red China asailed Premier Khrushchev again today as its seven-man mission to Moscow went off with a Kremlin team apparently to open the first real working session on the ideological feud between the world's two largest Communist powers.

After getting together yesterday for what appeared to be a largely ceremonial and organizational meeting, the two delegations drove to a villa in the Lenin Hills overlooking Moscow this morning. Their meeting was being held in secret.

The villa is a recreational area and seldom used for high level talks. The Chinese delegation leader, Teng Hsiao-Ping, general secretary of the Chinese Communist Party, drove there just before 10 a.m.

Little To Say
Mikhail Suslov, head of the Soviet delegation, left the Kremlin about the same time. Soviet newspapers had little to say about the meetings between experts of the Soviet and Chinese communist parties. The dispute on how to attain world supremacy for Communism is not officially a struggle between the two governments, but one between the parties.

Pravda, the Soviet party newspaper, printed a defense of Khrushchev's peaceful coexistence policy but made no mention of the meeting.

Communist Chinese newspapers in Hong Kong followed up new blasts from Peking by singling out Khrushchev by name, accusing him of being the man "who tore hundreds of economic agreements between China and Russia into pieces."

The daily Ching Po compared Khrushchev to President Kennedy saying each is trying to become "the WORLD'S GREATEST HERO" with one using the other to attain the goal.

Berlin Wall
Ching Po ridiculed Khrushchev about the Berlin Wall.

"Unfortunately, the Berlin Wall was built by Khrushchev," it said. "Otherwise the two K's could have met in Berlin during their recent European visits for a peaceful coexistence summit conference."

Peking charged Khrushchev is selling out Communism and is being too soft on the west.

Crack Biggest Counterfeit Case on Record

College Employee Printed Millions in Bogus Money

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — A college printing press operator has been charged with running off millions in bogus money in the biggest counterfeit case ever handled by the U. S. Secret Service.

Donald J. Carothers, 21-year-old print shop employee at Alameda State College in Hayward across the bay from San Francisco, was said by officers to have admitted turning out more than $4 million in fake $20 and $50 bills.

Arrested Friday, Carothers was charged with manufacturing counterfeit currency. Three other men have been arraigned since the ring was broken Wednesday night, and at least three others are being hunted.

Some $2.4 million has been recovered, with another $500,000 unaccounted for.

Carothers, who was paid $2.25 an hour for his college job, was quoted by police as saying "I had a key to the place to work at night on overtime jobs. I was to get $4,000, but I wanted real money, not this bogus."

Since Christmas
Lt. George Kelly of the Hayward Police Department reported the married man told him he ran off the counterfeit bills since Christmas, but much of it was ruined.

College President Fred Harclerod was shocked by the news of Carothers' arrest. "Carothers seemed like a nice young fellow and a hard worker. He did have a lot of over time work, so we gave him a key to the place. He could come at any hour he chose," Harclerod added.

Secret Service Area Chief Tom Hanson called the fake currency of "very good quality. It had very good paper—a rag bond—and the plates, apparently, were excellent."

Police Capture Killer of Two; 18-Year-Old Hostage Rescued

Gunman Shot Wife, Sister-in-Law; Family, Girl Held Captive

LINDEN, N.J. (AP) — Four policemen early today captured Richard (Teddy) Coleman, accused of shooting to death his wife and sister-in-law, wounding three other persons and kidnaping an 18-year-old girl.

The girl, Mary Kaminski, bleeding from head cuts and hysterical, had been released about a half hour earlier in nearby Elizabeth.

Coleman, 32, a Negro, was captured by the Newark policemen on Route 1 near Newark Airport four miles north of Linden. They found a fully loaded 38-caliber revolver on the car seat and a loaded 25-caliber automatic in Coleman's left pocket.

Tr. Sorry
After about three hours of questioning, Coleman told newsmen, "I'm very tired. I'm sorry about the whole mess."

When asked about the abduction and molesting of the girl, Coleman didn't answer but choked back a sob.

Police said the prisoner declined to discuss the incidents. He was to be arraigned before a Newark magistrate for Linden authorities.

Police said Coleman had struck the Kaminski girl on the head half a dozen times with one of the weapons. The girl, who is white, was found by Elizabeth patrolmen Joseph Sheridan and Joseph Brennan. She was running hysterically on Magnolia Street just minutes after she had been released.

Matted blood was in her hair and on her white blouse and Bermuda shorts. She was taken to Elizabeth General Hospital. Police said she may have been raped.

The girl told the officers the direction in which Coleman was driving when he left her. They notified Newark police and minutes later two detectives saw the car Coleman was driving. They radioed ahead to a patrol car on stake out and Coleman's car was trapped between the two police cruisers.

Guns Drawn
Detective George Quackenbush said he and the other three officers approached the car with guns drawn and he placed his revolver at Coleman's head. The fugitive raised his hands and of-

U.S. Job Total At 70 Million

Record Reached but Unemployment Still At 4.8 Million

WASHINGTON (AP) — For the first time, the United States has 70 million jobs—almost two decades after Henry A. Wallace stirred a fuss by predicting 60 million.

The Department of Labor reports that the 70 million total was reached in June. U.S. employment passed 60 million 15 years ago.

Wallace, vice president when he made his prediction, figured 60 million jobs would be the result of full employment.

Statistics released Friday showed that the 70 million jobs did not mean full employment. Teen-agers looking for jobs pushed the unemployment total to 4.8 million.

Harold Goldstein, spokesman for the department, said employment in June swelled to 70.3 million. The unemployment rate, despite the increase in unemployed, fell from 5.9 per cent in May to 5.7 per cent in June. This rate always is seasonally adjusted.

Wallace, now a farmer in South Salem, N.Y., wrote a book titled "60 Million Jobs" when he was vice president. It was published in 1945. The Democrats, who nominated Harry S. Truman to replace Wallace as the vice presidential candidate, used that slogan in the campaign of 1944.

Lived on Rainwater

Woman Survives Long Ordeal In Desert After Crash of Airplane

GRANTS, N.M. (AP) — "My prayers were answered," Mrs. Frances Tweed of Van Nuys, Calif., summed up a week-long ordeal after a plane crash last Saturday in which her husband died.

Mrs. Tweed, a slim brunette, lived on pastry and rainwater in a semi-desert desolate area six miles southwest of Grants.

She was found by a Civil Air Patrol search plane Friday, beside the wreckage and her husband's body.

'Remarkable Woman'
"She is a remarkable . . . fantastic woman," the Chihola Hospital administrator, George Williams said. "And she is in remarkably good condition."

Unknown to Mrs. Tweed, she was only a half-mile from a water tank, and while wandering on the mesa, she did not see the houses of Grants, visible from a point a half-mile from the crash site. She was, however, able to hear the noise from nearby Santa Fe trains.

of injuries about six hours after the single-engine globe swift plane crashed.

"There was no engine failure," the 47-year-old Mrs. Tweed said from her hospital bed, where she was treated for second degree burns on the feet, a cut over the left eye and other cuts and bruises.

She suffered the burns while trying to put out a small fire. Mrs. Tweed had no water until Tuesday, when it rained.

Her only food was what she described as a "Norwegian tortilla," which she said a relative, Maxine Ferguson of Legrand, Iowa, gave her when the Tweeds left June 25 on their homeward flight after a vacation.

SOS Spotted
A CAP pilot noticed the wreckage, Mrs. Tweed waving a piece of clothing, and "SOS" and "HELP" signs nearby. Mrs. Tweed used the plane's charts and rocks to make the signs.

Planes dropped water and food at the site and a helicopter was sent to pick up Mrs. Tweed and take her to the hospital where she had her first full meal in a week. Her husband's body was taken to a mortuary.

The New Mexico Civil Air Patrol started the search Tuesday after it was notified the plane was missing.

Labor Counsellor Tells Of Dispute-Filled Life

In "No Lamb for Slaughter," one of the new books at the Appleton Public Library, fascinating shenanigans in and out of court during labor-management disputes fill the memoirs of former labor counsellor Edward Lamb.

Now a very rich man, Lamb writes with liberal convictions and constant insight. Many national figures fill his pages, including John L. Lewis, Senator Kefauver, ex-President Truman, Joe McCarthy and other headlines.

Lamb's greatest coup was winning the portal-to-portal court fight, which set up a legal definition for the work week for the first time in history.

The first half of his autobiography details many literally bloody battles in defense of union organizing versus unfair management practices during the Thirties, when even the courts were prejudiced. The second half concerns his accumulation of an empire in enterprises (radio, TV and publishing) and of an attack on him by the Federal Communications Commission.

Wns Trial

The attack, sponsored by Senator McCarthy himself, included an attempt to revoke Lamb's licenses by smearing him as a Communist. By an incredible series of legal procedures (use of paid, fraudulent witnesses), the FCC baited Lamb through a lengthy trial, which he eventually won hands down and which caused an FCC shake-up. This is an absorbing book by an extremely likable man.

The fancy title of "Batter My Heart" comes from poet John Donne, but everything else in Donald Hayne's autobiography is singularly his own - sincere, full of feeling and, in parts, almost frighteningly frank, as if one were overhearing a voice in a confessional.

In fact, these revelations from an ex-priest and ex-monk are probably the most intimate spiritual pilgrimage we've had since Thomas Merton's "Seven Storey Mountain," if not quite as impressive or intense.

Many Failures

It was trial and error for Hayne each step of the way, as a priest and chaplain at Iowa State and through employment with Cecil B. DeMille in Hollywood, an attempt and failure at the Dominican life, and failure in marriage after fathering two children.

Over and over it is the Mother of Church which haunts. Only able to exist as a layman, unable even to accept all the dogmas, yet he says, "I believe. I ran do no other." The book is hardly a work of art, but it is a life, filled with all those inconsistencies, illuminations and inspirations only hard knocks and honest soul-searching can give.

New novels include "Water in the Wine" by April Armstrong, "John Goldfarb, Please Come Home!" by William Blatty, "Pretty Little" by Ronald Cassill, "A Sense of Reality" by Graham Greene, "The Pillar of Salt" by Albert Memmi, "Judas" by Yigal Mossenson, "The Even Temperature in the Cave" by Mary Nass, "The Greater Darkness" by David Rubin, "A Life" by Italo Svevo, "One Kiss for France" by Marilyn Tate, and "No. 9 Belmont Square" by Wetherby Williams.

Other New Books

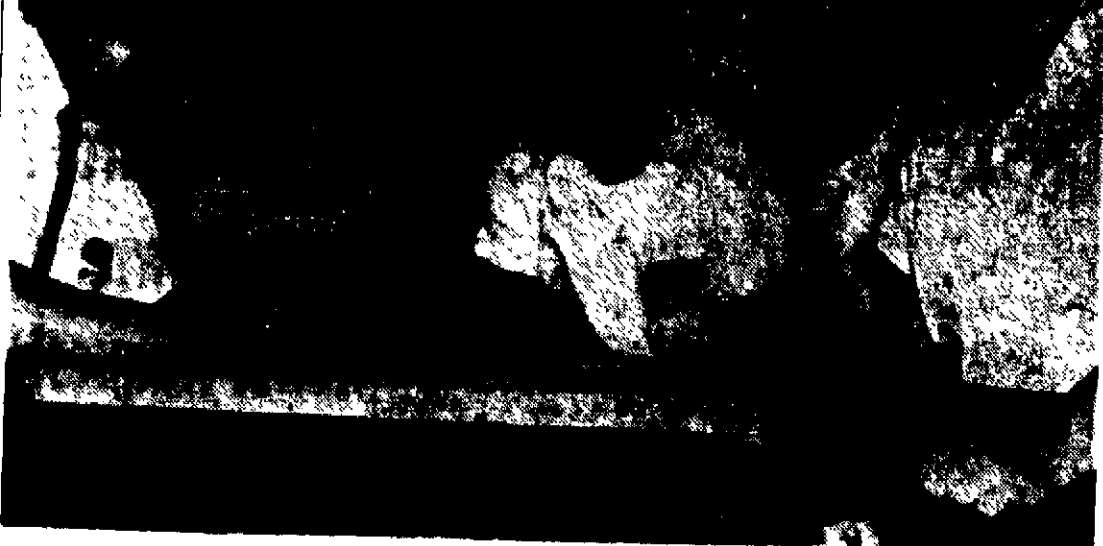

Other new books include "A History of Soviet Literature" by Vera Alexandrov, "The Economic Impact of the American Civil War" by Ralph Andreano, "Long-fellow: His Life and Work" by Newton Arvin, "Best Sport Stories, 1963," "Byzantine Emperors" by Charles Diehl, "God of a Hundred Names" by Barbara Greene, "Handbook of Watch and Clock Repairs" by H. G. Harris, "Orang-Utan" by Barbara Harrison, "The Conservative Affirmation" by Willmoore Kendall, and "Latin America Between the Eagle and the Bear" by Salvador Madariaga.

Also new are "Morrison R. Waite" by C. Peter Magiath, "The Art of Viennese Cooking" by Marcia Morton, "Blueprints for Leviathan" by Roy Nichols, "Undertow" by Helen Parkhurst, "Search for a Method" by Jean Sartre, "My Life and Music" by Arthur Schnabel, "Great Britain Since 1688" by Kingsley Smellie, "Toward Better Reading" by George Spache, and "The Great Psychologists" by Robert Watson.

Scientists Will Probe Earth Beneath Lake

Explosives to be Used in Superior Lake Project

OTTAWA (AP)—Canadian and U.S. scientists will set off more than 60 tons of explosives in Lake Superior in the next few weeks in an attempt to learn the thickness, shape and other features of the earth below the lake.

The joint project opening Sunday forms part of an international study of the mantle of the earth below the crust. This study—known as the International Upper Mantle Project—started in January, 1962, and continues until the end of 1964.

Scientists are studying the mantle because conditions within the earth's thin crust are controlled from the mantle. Earthquakes, volcanoes and the forces that push up mountains originate within this part of the earth.

It also is believed that ores found in the earth's crust were pushed up from the mantle and that the mantle can be a source of minerals once those in the crust are depleted.

22 Miles Deep

The crust of the earth has an average depth of about 22 miles. Below it lies the mantle, which is about 2,000 miles thick. The earth's core below that is 2,000 miles in diameter.

The Lake Superior study is being made by the Department of Mines and Technical Surveys and the universities of Toronto, Western Ontario, Alberta and Manitoba. The Carnegie Institution of Washington and five U.S. universities make up the American contingent.

The crust under Lake Superior will be studied by setting off 60 underwater explosions along a line from Michipicoten Island near Wawa, Ont., to Duluth, Minn. Each charge exploded over this 360-mile distance will be set off at a depth of 300 feet to minimize the danger to fish.

Traveling Time

Seismic instruments located near Wawa and Duluth will measure the time taken for shock to travel through the earth's crust from the site of each explosion to the recorders. With this and other information it will be possible to determine the thickness of the crust under the lake and get a picture of its contours.

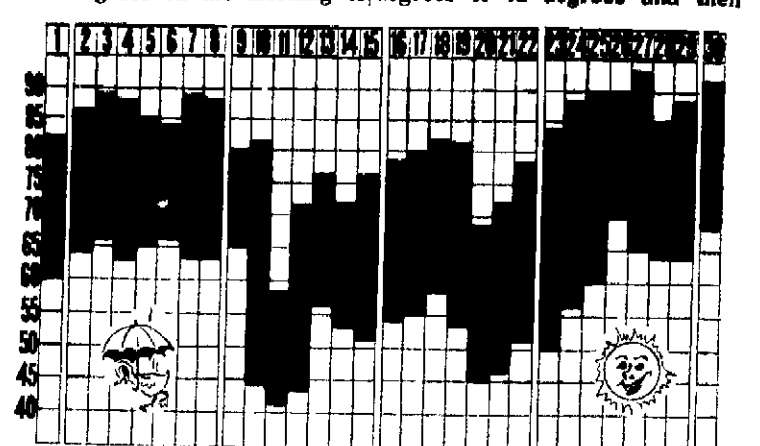

Dr. J. H. Hodgson, chief of the seismology division of the Dominion Observatory, said Lake

Top June Temperatures Averaged 81; Low 57

Appleton area residents enjoyed the warmest June since 1949 as rainfall intensities were great and temperature was 81.8 degrees as compared to the 77-degree normal. The average minimum was 57.4 degrees aided sleepful nights. Overnight lows were at or below 65 degrees on all but five days. The month's lowest temperature of 41 degrees on the morning of ad winds were 33 miles per hour. Rainfall intensities were great and resulted in considerable flash flooding in the area. A total of 1.61 inches of rain was recorded with 1.17 inches falling in the first half hour. Mercury Falls Just prior to the storm the temperature had reached 93 degrees and was still rising but with the onset of the rainfall the temperature rapidly dropped. In the first hour and a half it dropped 21 degrees to 72 degrees and then

June 11 set a new record low for that date. A reading of 93 degrees on June 27 was the month's high. Four of the last six days of the month observed 90 and above weather.

June rainfall totaled 4.14 inches which is 0.16 inch above normal. Thunderstorms occurred on seven days and accounted for 4.00 inches of the total. Thunderstorms were particularly active on two days.

On June 8, 1.43 inches of rain fell in about two and one-half hours accompanied by strong and persistent winds. The maximum gust recorded was 64 miles per hour. Reports from other locations in the area, based on the resulting damages, estimated it to be higher.

On June 27, maximum record.

Superior was chosen for the study because it is near the center of the North American continent. The features of the crust below the lake would give scientists a standard to which they can compare crust depths elsewhere in North America.

The Canadian seismic team, headed by Dr. Gordon West of the University of Toronto, will operate 50 seismic stations spread along a 12-mile line. The explosive charges will be lowered into the lake and set off by a U.S. Coast Guard vessel.

Reuben Stadler, route 2, Menasha, recalls early years with Mrs. Anna Lotter of Seymour during the first Liebhaber-Stadler family reunion in Seymour. Stadler is the eldest son of his family. Mrs. Lotter is the granddaughter of Anna Liebhaber Stadler who emigrated from Bavaria, Germany, about 1847 to the Grand Chute area near Appleton. The family now spans six generations. (Duffey Photo)

24 Descendants of Pioneer Family Trace 216 Ancestors

SEYMOUR — Twenty-four family units attended the first Liebhaber-Stadler family reunion Sunday at Seymour's Rockledge park. Joseph Lotter of Seymour was elected president of the organization.

Other officers include Joseph Stadler, Appleton, vice president; Mrs. Clarence Liebhaber, treasurer; and Mrs. Clarence Hallada, Seymour, secretary. Focal point of interest was a family genealogy chart of six generations prepared by Mrs. Genevieve Renstrom of Seymour.

Anna (Winegar) Liebhaber-Stadler joined early settlers to the Grand Chute area near a falls of a ravine located west of Appleton's College Avenue. The ravine has since been filled. She brought one son, Benno Liebhaber, born June 18, 1845, from Bavaria, Germany. Early family records indicate she married a Mr. Stadler about 1848, the year Wisconsin joined the union. A son, Anton, was born to them on July 29, 1850.

Through these two sons, half-brothers, this pioneer woman was the progenitor of 216 descendants. There are 90 direct line descendants through her son Benno Liebhaber and 126 through Anton Stadler.

Brothers Retire From Business

KAUKAUNA — Joseph and Gene Ditter, partners in the Ditter Heating and Plumbing firm, have announced their retirement bringing to an end a business founded by their father, Walter Sr., in 1906.

The firm was known as Walter C. Ditter and Son until 1957 when it was changed by the brothers who assumed ownership following the death of their father and their brother, John, who had taken over part ownership with his father in 1921.

The firm specialized in commercial and industrial work and was responsible for plumbing and heating in many well known buildings in the city. Although announcing their retirement officially July 3, both admitted having a few odd jobs to clean up before officially hanging up their tools. No plans are being made to sell the concern.

Neenah Resident Forfeits $32 Bond

CLINTONVILLE — Sebastian Schneider, 20, formerly of Marion and now of Neenah, forfeited a bond of $31.70 on a disorderly conduct charge when he failed to appear Friday morning in court before Municipal Justice Nathan Wiese.

Clintonville police arrested Schneider early the morning of July 4 as a result of a fight in a local restaurant. He was jailed and released later on July 4 after posting bond.

Police Chief James Beggs said, "We like people to have a good time but we will not stand for any personal violence in this city."

Appleton Man Placed On 2 Years' Probation For Misrepresentation

Robert A. Hiles, 39, 2020 W. Wisconsin Ave., was placed on probation for two years after pleading guilty to six counts of misrepresentation in obtaining unemployment benefits.

Hiles received three unemployment checks in January, two in May and one last month while he was employed. He has been ordered to make restitution.

Man Pleads Guilty To Resisting Arrest

Jerry Lee Guyette, 22, W. Wisconsin Ave., pleaded guilty Friday to resisting arrest and will be sentenced July 15. He has been released on a $500 bond.

Guyette was arrested by Appleton police Sunday night when they answered a family complaint at the Guyette home. Guyette was found later at a teen-age beer bar where he scuffled with a city policeman who asked him to come to the station in regard to the family complaint.

Under Premier Cheddi Jagan

British Guiana Moving Toward Integration in Communist Bloc

BY BONAFIDE

CHICAGO Daily News Service

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana — Thumbing its nose at the United States, the government of Premier Cheddi Jagan is moving closer and closer toward integration in the Castro-Communist bloc.

U.S. officials are convinced that Jagan is a Communist and should be written off as a loss in the Cold War.

With a general strike now in its 10th week, the Jagan government is completely dependent on the Communist bloc to supply it with food and fuel in its efforts to break the economic blockade.

Free world vessels refuse to stop here during the drawn-out violence-racked strike, called April 18 in protest against a Jagan-sponsored labor bill which, in effect, would give him control over the country's labor movement.

Cool Relations

Cool relations between Jagan and Washington are being strained to the limit, particularly by the sudden hike in the number of Russian and Cuban ships pulling into Georgetown.

On their side, government spokesmen denounce the United States for allegedly aiding and abetting striking union forces in a political move to overthrow Jagan's Socialist government. Demands that officers of the U.S. consulate be expelled have been stepped up.

Since last March, Russian and Cuban ships and tankers have been carrying flour, oil and general cargo here with increasing frequency. There are reports the vessels are smuggling arms into the country.

Youth Organization

On their return to Cuba they carry rice and eligible members of the Progressive Youth Organization (an arm of Jagan's highly organized People's Progressive Party) for Communist indoctrination by Fidel Castro's regime.

In a blatant move, Jagan sought to store the oil—produced in Russia.

Not Traced

Two descendants of Anton Stadler Sr.'s sons, George (born 1877) and Anton Jr. (born 1878) have not been traced.

Oldest living descendant of the Liebhaber branch of the family tree is Mrs. Anna Lotter of Seymour. Robin Hollis Rushing, 4 months, Memphis, Tenn., is the youngest. Sara Stadler Sturm of Foster St., Appleton is the oldest on the Stadler side. Sally Ann Weyenberg of Combined Locks is the youngest Mrs. Sturm and Mrs. Lotter are cousins.

Most of the members remained in the Appleton region. One became a nun, Sister Vivian (Delores Liebhaber) 1916 to 1946. Many affiliate themselves with agricultural or related fields.

Mayor Issues Theater Week Proclamation

Appleton Mayor Clarence A. Mitchell has proclaimed the week beginning today and ending July 12 as Support Your Community Theater Week. In issuing the proclamation, Mayor Mitchell urged all Appleton residents to give "their greatest possible encouragement and support to the Appleton Theater during this period and throughout the entire summer."

The Mayor noted the theater group has been an "integral part" of the cultural life of this city for 14 years.

The Apple Theater opens its 14th consecutive summer season today with the production "You Can't Take It With You." Two performances, at 7 and 9:30 p. m., are scheduled for the play by Moss Hart and George Kaufman.

3-Ring Circus Set in Village

LITTLE CHUTE — Performances of the Sells Brothers 3-ring circus will be offered at 2:30 and 8 p. m. Tuesday at the Legion Athletic field through the cooperation of the village recreation department.

Attractions besides the usual clowns, elephants, wild animals and midway concessions will be the Whiz Kids on unicycles; Sir Ricardo, a juggler; Mavis and Sheri, aerialists; and Johnson troupe of acrobats; performances by Laura, Linda and Leah, the Hall family and Miss Kathleen Stevens and her elephant act. Circus grounds will open an hour prior to each performance.

School at Oshkosh Entered; Nothing Taken

OSHKOSH — Nothing was obtained in an entry sometime Thursday night at the South Park School although an attempt was made to get into a vending machine and a pay telephone, police reported Friday. The entry was discovered by the janitor Friday morning.

sia and refined in expropriated American plants in Cuba—in U.S.-owned tanks at Atkinson airfield, operating under a U.S. lease since World War II.

If allowed, this would have produced a bizarre situation whereby Russian oil transported in Cuban ships would have been stored in U.S. government tanks under the protection of British troops.

This was too much for the State Department, U.S. Consul General Everett K. Melby promptly fired off a note to Sir Ralph Grey, the British governor, spelling out the fine points of the treaty agreement regarding the airfield. Shortly afterward, Jagan found other storage facilities.

Paper Upset

Shrilled the government-controlled newspaper, The Mirror: "The U.S. action is so petty, so perverse, so utterly rooted in dishonor that the Mirror suggests that Dr. Jagan should take immediate steps to have the entire U.S. consular corps recalled."

Demands for the deportation of members of the U.S. consular staff earlier had been made by government officials.

Deputy Premier Brindley Benn maintained last year that "certain agencies of the United States have been working very hard to displace the government of British Guiana." He urged that necessary steps be taken for the removal of subversive U.S. agents.

(Many Guianese, who know Benn as an uninhibited speaker, chortled, "Little Benn trying to act like big Ben.")

Both Jagan and his Communist-trained, Chicago-born wife, Jan Kennedy to wear a hat and pointedly asked him how a hatless man can properly greet a lady.

"How does the President acknowledge such an encounter?" asked Tallor and Cutter in an editorial, which the editor said he was sending to the White House.

Tallor and Cutter is recognized here as an arbiter of good taste in men's clothing and, in some cases, men's manners.

Speculating on how Kennedy greets ladies, the magazine suggested he might do it with:

A brief and courteous bow. A hearty handshake. A blade-crushing slap on the back.

"Or," added the magazine, "that peculiarly American greeting—the flat palm of the hand sliding upwards and outwards across the greeter's face and the cheerful injunction, 'Hi'm'."

The magazine said none of these would do—especially if the President greeted someone such as Queen Elizabeth II—and suggested:

"The deft touch of a raised hat, politely pinched between thumb and forefinger and held for a hesitant moment over the wearer's heart, would bring a high spark of gallantry to those modern diplomatic moves which seem to have lost so much of their old-world pliancy in the current rush for time-saving practicalities."

Long-Lost Bike Found But Owner Won't Need It Now

NEENAH — A 17-year-old Neenah girl picked up a bicycle today which she had reported missing—last August. Darlene Voss, 516 Adams St., said she "gave up hope last September of getting the bicycle back."

At 1:15 p. m. Thursday police received a report that two boys had found a bike at the slough on the southwest corner of the Adams Street bridge, just a few blocks from the Voss home. The license was that issued to Darlene.

Darlene picked up the bike Friday, and it was in pretty bad shape. "It was all rusty. The back wheel was off completely, the seat was wrecked, and the side baskets were off," she said.

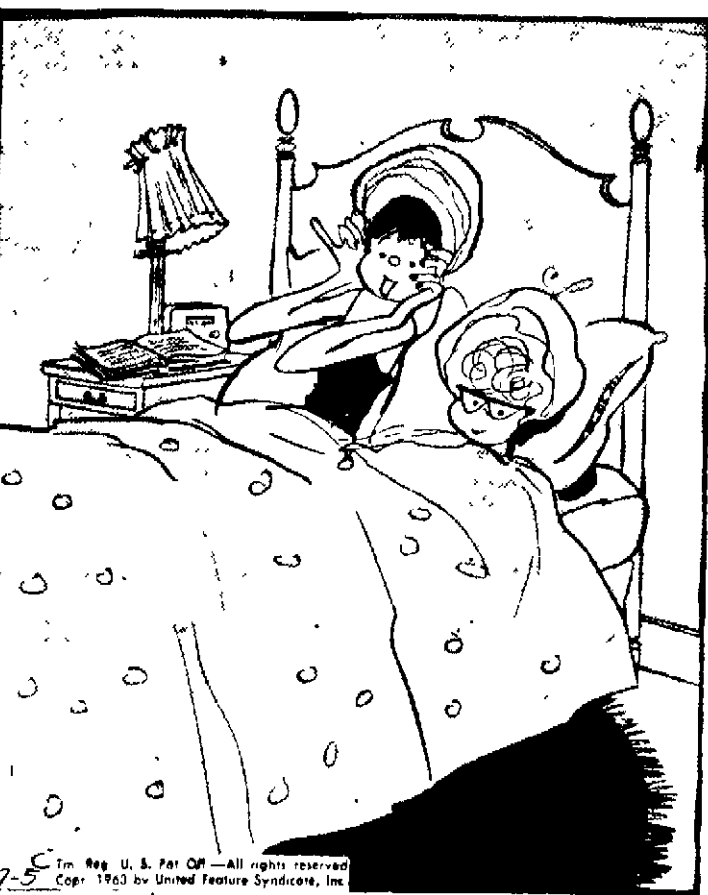

Her dad would fix the bicycle, she said, but she won't be needing it any more. The reason? She just received her temporary auto driver's permit.

Openings Remain In Drama Class

By Sylvanus M. Duvall, Ph.D. and Evelyn M. Duvall, Ph.D.

PARENTS SHOULD ALWAYS BE GENTLE AND KIND!

TRUE ☐ FALSE ☐

False, or perhaps the statement people work far harder trying to should be: "Parents should always make a 'fast buck' than they act as if they were gentle and do at honest labor, and with kind when actually they feel much less reward. Others spend quite otherwise!" One mother had hours of time and great energy been brought up to believe that trying to prove that they are "right," when the same amount of time and effort would really be sweet and never feel anger or get them somewhere. The most bad, but were normal youngsters who increasingly took advantage of her. One morning after the children had been particularly "brattish," she found herself kicking the cat. She had enough insight to know what it meant, so she disciplined the children. She felt better, they felt better, and the cat was a lot safer.

Does the program of "divide and conquer" actually work?

Yes ☐ No ☐

Yes, provided the feelings of division are strong and intense. The British were able to conquer India because the different religious groups — Hindus, Sikhs, Jains and Moslems, and the various castes within Hinduism — had loyalties so intense that they could be persuaded to fight each other. If people do not care enough to be willing to fight, it is hard to divide them.

Is it better to wear out or rest out?

Your opinion _____

Neither. It is better to work efficiently. The greatest danger for some people is that they shall knock themselves out. Lots of

Pipeline at Beach Made From Lots of Soda Straws

BY CAPPY DICK

For fun at the beach, build your self a pipeline of soda straws, and use it to transport water. In addition to a good supply of straws you will need some pipe cleaners, a couple of paper cups, a piece of cardboard and some mending tape.

The straws become the pipe and the pipe cleaners become supports to hold the pipe. These pieces are in Figures 1 and 2, the latter showing how to twist a pipe cleaner around a straw to serve as a support. The cleaner will stand upright if its ends are pressed into the sand.

The pipeline can be as long as you wish. Simply squeeze the end of one soda straw into the end of another, adding straw after straw until the line is long enough to suit you.

Gravity will cause the water to run through the pipeline if you start pouring from a high point. Attach the receiving end of the line to the bottom of a paper cup which has been clipped off to make an opening in it. Use mending ling tape to hold the straw and cup together as in Figure 3. The cup, serving as a funnel, will be held upright if taped to a piece of folded cardboard as indicated in Figure 3. The bottom of this cardboard should be stuck into the sand.

Stick a paper cup in the sand at the end of the pipeline to catch the water passing through it from the receiving end.

British School Is Spy Center, Lebanese Claim

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Stirred up by the unmasking of missing British journalist H. A. R. Philby as a Soviet spy, Lebanese newspapers attacked the British government's Arabic Language School today as a spy center.

"Here is the beehive of British espionage in the Middle East," one newspaper headlined. Another asked Lebanese Interior Minister Kamal Jumblatt to produce documents he claims to have proving the school is an intelligence center.

Philby, 51, former first secretary of the British Embassy in Washington, disappeared from Beirut last January and was reported to have slipped behind the Iron Curtain.

Philby has been accused of working as a double agent during World War II when Britain and the Soviet Union were allies. The British government said he also tipped off turncoat spies Guy Burgess and Donald Maclean that they were about to be arrested in 1951. Both escaped to Communist territory.

Four Guilty of Topsy Driving

Hortonville Driver Has License Taken; Three Others Fined

Three men were arraigned on charges of drunken driving when brought before Municipal Judge John Quinn at Hortonville.

Rudolph R. Ernst, 51, route 1, Hortonville, was fined $125 and costs and had his driver's license revoked for one year. Ernst was apprehended by Hortonville Police Chief Douglas Jones on June 17 and refused the drunkometer test. He was arrested on Crest Street in the village. He also was driving while his driver's license was revoked.

Raymond Splitsore, 51, Milwaukee, forfeited $75 and costs. Splitsore was arrested on Main Street by Jones on June 20 and tested .10 on the drunkometer.

New London Driver Glenn E. Casperson, 38, 1505 Smith St., New London was fined $75 and costs. Casperson's arrest was made by Police Chief Jones on Highway 45 in the village on June 12. He tested .18 on the drunkometer.

Winnebago County Judge James Britz, 28, 8A Gruenwald Ave., Oshkosh, to two concurrent terms of 60 days each in the county jail after Britz pleaded no contest to charges of drunken driving and driving after his license had been revoked and before reinstatement. Britz was arrested by state traffic police who noticed him driving erratically on U.S. 41 in the town of Algoma at 9:42 p.m. Thursday. Britz declined a breathalyzer test. Judge Sitter adjudged Britz guilty of both charges.

Most of Nation Isolated Capital of British Guiana Cut Off From World Since April 18 Strike

BY DOM BONAFIDE
Chicago Daily News Service

GEORGETOWN, British Guiana — For more than two months British Guiana has been virtually isolated from the rest of the world.

All regular transportation and communications channels have been disrupted since the start of the general strike April 18.

Commercial air traffic to Georgetown, the capital and only major city, was discontinued at the beginning of the nationwide walkout.

Third of Series

Private cables are delayed for a week. Urgent press messages are held up anywhere from 24 hours to three days. One wire service correspondent who had been filing a story daily received a message from his New York office saying they had not heard from him in four days.

Bribe Paid
He was the same reporter who paid $40 in bribe money to the telegraphers in the expectation his copy would be given preferential service.

And a London correspondent who had written a story two days previously that everything was quiet in British Guiana was able to retrieve it at the cable office before it was sent when four bombs exploded in one evening.

Even in normal times the country is remote. Bordered by jungles and mudlands, it is almost inaccessible by land. To the west no passable roads connect it with Venezuela.

The only overland route from the outside to Georgetown is from Paramaribo, Surinam, on the east.

Booming Business
Today, Paramaribo is enjoying a booming business as the gateway to British Guiana. Travelers trying to get into the strike-locked country from Paramaribo go by car or plane to Nickerie on the Surinam side of the border. Once there, they are advised to buy several cans of gasoline since fuel is either unavailable or too expensive in British Guiana. Then, after being forced across the Courantyne river they must find a driver willing to take them to Georgetown, a trip of about 100 miles, taking at least eight hours along a route which will never make an AAA map.

Less hardy adventurers, however, prefer to fly from Paramaribo direct to Georgetown, a flight of 1½ hours by small plane—if you can find a pilot of a small plane willing to take passengers.

This was a notable feat in the early weeks of the strike when U.S. cigarettes were worth more than gold in British Guiana. Private pilots made small fortunes by flying passengers out of British Guiana and returning with their planes loaded with cases of cigarettes, valued at about $4,000 a plane load on the black market. Naturally, this was too lucrative for them to bother with passengers.

But with a glut on the cigarette market, the pilots began ferrying passengers into Georgetown at prices ranging from $50 to $1,000, depending on a number of factors; the urgency with which the passenger wanted to get into British Guiana, the number of available planes and the amount of tension in Georgetown—the higher the tension the higher the price.

Must Sign Waivers
Periodically, for no reason easily apparent, aviation authorities in British Guiana or Surinam would refuse permission for such flights. The truth is many of the pilots did not—and do not—have licenses authorizing them to fly passengers, who, incidentally, must sign ominous waivers protecting the pilot against possible lawsuits in the event of an accident.

Long distance telephone service went out when the strike came in. Mail marked for British Guiana is piling up in Caracas, Paramaribo, and Port-of-Span, Trinidad. Some sent in April is beginning to arrive. Likewise, cargo due here is gathering dust, rust and barnacles somewhere along the way.

An American mining prospector lost a dredge in shipment between Miami and Georgetown several weeks ago and hasn't found it yet.

$200 Damage Results From One-Car Mishap
NEW LONDON — More than $200 damage resulted from a one-car crash on Mill Street in front of New London Community Hospital at 4:10 a.m. Thursday.

Robert P. Kling, 19, route 2, Shiocton, told city police he dozed behind the wheel. His auto struck a light pole, stop sign, road sign and other signs. Neither Kling nor his two passengers were injured.

Let Untrained Youngster Progress at His Own Rate

BY DR. EVE JONES

Dear Eve Jones: My older boy takes my 2-year-old to the bathroom to show him how big boys go, but still my little one doesn't do anything. Other children his age that I know all seem to be completely trained. With summer coming and picnics, etc., I just hate the thought of carrying diapers. For a month now, he has been wearing pants, but it doesn't help.

MRS. H. R.
Tell your older boy to wait until he's a father before he starts taking such paternal responsibilities.

Let your younger boy wear his pants and wet them merrily until he shows you by his use of the toilet that he's a big boy. The other children are other children. Your job is to let your boys grow at their own unique rates.

Dear Eve Jones: Why is everyone blaming steady dating and early dating for what's going on now with teen-agers and illegitimacy, etc.? If they didn't cause such trouble 20 and 25 years ago, why are they supposed to be so "bad now?"

My friends and I started dating at 12, necking at 13 and steady dating at 15 and 16. Only a few of the girls in my high school class (this was just before and during World War II) ever were what we called "bad."

MRS. C. M.
In those days, you couldn't easily get into trouble because of two factors: (1) most of your neighbors knew your family and kept track of what everyone was doing, and (2) your feet; buses or streetcars couldn't take you very far from such snooping in the few hours you had to date in.

Today's suburbs and changing city neighborhoods are made up of strangers who are too worried about their own belongingness to risk passing judgment on their neighbor's behavior. Automobiles take youngsters miles away from home in minutes.

Teen-agers are notoriously lacking in self-control and convinced they can beat the odds. They need protection until they develop more mature judgment. Since we can't turn back the clock to provide the old safeguards, we have to get rid of the extra temptations of early and steady dating.

Two Hurt in Auto Crash

Both Men Taken To Waupaca's Memorial Hospital

WAUPACA — Two persons were injured in a two-car accident about 1 p.m. Friday on U.S. 10, near the Waupaca Airport. Including a young Weyauwega man who will be married here at 7 p.m. today.

Dennis Wilson, 20, Weyauwega, who is to be married, was driving east and turning right into a driveway. Charles W. Wright, 43, Worcester, Mass., was driving west.

Sheriff Loran Frazier and State Policeman Duane Schmieden said the Wright car struck the left side of the Wilson car. The Wright car slid 93 feet to the point of impact.

Both were taken to the Waupaca Memorial Hospital where Wilson was treated for a cut on the head and possible chest injuries and Wright for a cut on the head. Both drivers were alone in their cars. They were taken to the hospital by Holly Ambulance.

The Wilson car was a total loss. The front of the Wright car also was damaged.

Car Fire Extinguished

NEW LONDON — New London Volunteer Firemen were called at 8:09 p.m. Thursday to extinguish a fire in an auto owned by John Muskevitch, New London. No serious damage was reported.

Pair Held at Oshkosh Admits Five Break-Ins

Walter Lappen and Robert Rolf Tell Of Calumet Cases

CHILTON — Five more Calumet County break-ins have been cleared up and were added to the growing list of offenses admitted by two men being held by Winnebago County authorities, according to Calumet County Sheriff C. J. Kosmosky.

Kosmosky said Walter J. Lappen, 26, 17 School St., Chilton, and Robert Rolf, 33, 918 Taft St., Kaukauna, have admitted break-ins at the Schmidt Oil Co., 411 E. Main St.; the Cooperative Service Oil Co. service station, 212 E. Grand St.; the Keller Implement Co., Forest Junction; and dwellings at route 3, Chilton, and the Town of Harrison.

Kosmosky said he worked with Outagamie County Investigator Jack Zuelzke to extract the confessions. Together they recovered more stolen goods including four major appliances taken from the rural Chilton home.

Not Reported

The appliances were not reported stolen until July 1. They were owned by Bernard Gebhart, a Chilton appliance dealer who had stored them in an unoccupied Town of Brothertown house. Taken were a stove, washing machine, vacuum cleaner and other smaller appliances. They were recovered from the Lappen home.

Taken from the Town of Harrison home was a television set and a radio. The items have not been positively identified in the recovered loot, Kosmosky said.

Lappen and Rolf were apprehended by Oshkosh police after a lumber company burglary and safe-cracking there. Shortly after their arrest the pair admitted a break-in in Club Darboy in which about $500 was taken. Calumet authorities have charged them with grand theft for the Darboy break-in.

5 Board Members Win in School Vote

Formerly Were on Union High Organization; Two Must Run Again July 22

BY PAT DUFFEY

SEYMOUR — Five of the seven members of the old Seymour Union High School board have gained posts on the new Seymour Community Schools board.

Returned were Kenneth Zeitler of Seymour, the new vice president of the board, Melvin Grandcorbitz, Black Creek, treasurer; Herman Wussow, Town of Cicero; Walter Muehl, Town of Seymour, president and Donald Decker, Town of Osborn. Dr. Keith King, union district board treasurer, declined to seek a post on the new board.

Zeitler and Mrs. Jean Melchert, new district clerk, were elected on an unopposed ballot from the City of Seymour. Zeitler tallied 478 and Mrs. Melchert 504. Grandcorbitz was unopposed in Black Creek and gained 504 votes.

In zone 3 comprising the Towns of Cicero, Maine and Lessor, Wussow outdistanced two opponents by a wide margin. Wussow totaled 339 to 131 for Ray Thomas and 84 for Otto Uecker.

Defeats Three

Muehl easily took command in a field of four candidates for the zone 4 position comprising the Towns of Seymour and Maple Grove. Muehl garnered 350 votes compared to 76 for Arlyn Helms and 66 for Nancy Gamm.

The race in zone 5 saw Decker pull out with 228 votes over Lester Krahn, 166, Fred Hoffmann, 109, and Earl Spauke, 79. The territory includes the Towns of Oneida and Osborn.

In a repeat race for the zone 6 job in the Towns of Black Creek and Center, Ing Vego upset veteran clerk Anthony Weyers, 338 to 245. Vego came very close to defeating Weyers at the last annual meeting. Weyers has been clerk of the union district since its formation in 1954.

Zeitler, Grandcorbitz and Mrs. Melchert were given three year terms. Wussow and Muehl two year terms and Decker and Vego one year terms which last until July 22. Both are running for reelection.

Faces Hoffman

Vego is unopposed, but Decker will face Fred Hoffman on the ballot. Marvin Babbitt, former president of both the high school and elementary boards at Seymour, received a token 18 write-in votes. Elmer Gosse and Vilas Kraft polled nine and eight, respectively.

The election was run by County Supt. Henry Van Straten and the board he selected. Potential voters in the district are estimated at about 3,500. Only 597 votes were cast in the election.

Although no budget was available for discussion, other matters were handled. Voters approved a 9½ month school term after Principal Robert Farning explained that the state wants a 9½ to 10 month term or 175 days minimum. The Seymour High School district has added five days of in-service training for teachers for a 180-day term. Teacher contracts have been signed for the period but token approval was required of the electorate.

Insurance Policy

WIAA accident insurance for the 2,065 member student body was approved. The high school, and the Seymour and Black Creek elementary schools have had the policy in the past covering students for all school activities, as well as transportation to and from school.

Board member salaries were set at $100 over last year. The clerk will now receive $400, president $300, treasurer $350 and other members $300. Salaries for the 1963-64 term will total $2,250. The clerk will be responsible for taking the census of the entire district as of June 30, 1964. All children and youngsters up to the age of 20 will be counted. Previously the high school district depended upon the census taken by the elementary district clerks.

Farning explained that it would be impossible to provide kindergarten and special services to all schools the first year. Mrs. Miriam Van Veen is the only kindergarten teacher in the district.

Summer Program

Farning said both the Seymour and Black Creek grade schools were filled to capacity and the high school's single remaining room was being reserved for a special class.

A summer kindergarten program being experimented with at Black Creek may provide a temporary answer. Children who are enrolled for the first grade this fall are attending morning sessions. The program could be employed in other schools in the district.

New State Legislation May Mean End To Impromptu Teen-Age Beer Parties

May Charge Seymour Man In Traffic Death

Orville Eick Says He Didn't Know He Struck Pedestrian

Post-Crescent News Service

GREEN BAY — A rural Seymour man is expected to be arraigned Monday on charges growing out of the death Wednesday of a Green Bay man in an accident west of here.

The death of Leonard Hill, 62, was one of six fatal traffic accidents reported in Wisconsin since the July 4 holiday period began at 6 p.m. Wednesday.

Hill was killed shortly after 10 p.m. Wednesday when he was struck by a car on State 54 a mile west of here. The driver of the car that struck Hill left the accident scene without stopping.

Hit by Two Others

Hill, who was thrown into the opposite traffic lane by the impact, was run over by two other cars traveling in the opposite direction.

About two hours after the accident, Orville F. Eick, 50, route 1, Seymour, returned to the accident scene and told investigating officers he was the driver of the car that originally struck Hill.

Eick said he didn't know what he had hit while driving, but didn't think it was anything serious. He said he checked his car when he arrived home and returned to the accident scene when he saw heavy damage to the front of his auto.

Eick was taken to the Brown County jail where he was given an alcohol test and later released on $500 bond. A county police affidavit accusing him of leaving the scene of an accident was filed with the district attorney's office.

An assistant district attorney said this morning no formal charge has yet been decided on, but that charges would be filed before Eick's court appearance Monday.

One Application Filed for Brillion School Board

BRILLION — John Haun, clerk of the Brillion Board of Education, announced that the deadline for filing applications for candidacy in elections to the Board of Education was 5 p.m. Monday.

Roy Fischer, incumbent board member, was the only person to file a paper. Fischer's term expires at the annual meeting on July 22.

This is the first year the new election method will be in use. The election will be from 1 to 3 p.m. Monday, July 22. Polls will be open at the Forest Junction School for residents of the former Forest Junction and Webster districts. Everyone else in the district will vote in the Brillion High School gymnasium.

Prepared ballots will be used this year for the first time, following the request of 112 petitioners. Previously, the election was conducted at the annual meeting with nominations from the floor.

Law Forbids Carrying-Out of Beverage From Stores by Minors

BY RAY PY

Post-Crescent Staff Writer

Alas, the "party" is over. Legislation forbidding the carrying-out of beer from any Class A (liquor and beer) or Class B (beer only) stores by persons under 21 may have written the end of the teen-age beer drinking party.

Local authorities Friday expressed hope the new law which went into effect at midnight Thursday would present no special problems to enforce.

Unanimous Support

Generally, the legislation, which has received almost unanimous support from both the State Senate and Assembly, forbids persons under the age of 21 to enter a store and purchase beer to carry out.

The legislation, in effect, limits the under-21 drinker to a teen-age bar and will eliminate impromptu or planned parties along country roads, in picnic areas, at home or in any other place.

Fines ranging from $50 to $500 and jail terms up to 90 days await those beer dealers or "procureurs" who get beer illegally for the under-21 drinker.

Take Away Licenses

Fines and possible jail sentences await the under 21 drinker who violates the law, and the court will be ordered to take or restrict driver's licenses of offenders caught with beer in a car. (Not affected are drinkers accompanied by parents, spouse or guardians.)

Appleton grocers, most of whom carry beer in bottles, cans, or six-packs, said today they were aware the law had been pending but were surprised to hear it was in effect. They said hardly any warning of the law had been issued.

Most grocers said they would instruct employees to begin complying with the new law immediately, but some said they would await official word from authorities.

One grocer estimated the ban on carry-outs would affect his beer sales from 5 to 10 per cent. He said additional business of snacks, hot dogs and other goods generally purchased with the beer by the under-21 drinkers would be affected also.

Additional Problem

Grocers agreed that an additional problem — that of minors proving they were 21 years or older — would come up and would have to be solved.

Officials who issue the standard Wisconsin identification card to persons 18 years and older said that by the time the person was 21 years old, they had lost or had their identification card taken away and had not renewed them.

Many state cards are taken by military authorities when the person enters the service.

Dist. Atty. Nick F. Schaefer who conferred with officials of the state tax and beverage department today, continued the law was in effect as of midnight and would be enforced immediately by local and state authorities.

Police Chief E. O. Wolff said he had not been informed of the official passage of the law, but when he received notice, he said he would send letters to local beer distributors outlining the law.

Sheriff Calvin Spice called the law a step in the right direction.

County Judge Gus A. Keller, who often has stated that the beer laws in Outagamie County "was the number one social problem of our area," withheld comment on the legislation today pending a further study of the law.

The new law passed the senate 20-1 and the assembly 91-1. It was signed by the governor June 2 and went into effect on the published date today.

Included in the legislation is a clause requiring that beer drinkers under 21 consume their beverage in an area 10 feet from the place of purchase at stands selling beer outside.

Firemen Can Burn Building, Little Chute Board Decides

LITTLE CHUTE — The village board Tuesday night entered into a three-way agreement with the Volunteer Fire Department and the American Legion to permit burning down an old house as a drill for volunteer fire units in the area.

The building to be burned is owned by the American Legion. The local fire department was authorized to use the structure for fire fighting drills and instruction to be given under the direction of state fire personnel. Approval of the village board was needed to complete plans.

Fire units from Kimberly, Combined Locks, Vandenberg, Buchanan and other areas are to be invited for the school which will be held some Sunday in July. The street committee was authorized to secure bids on a car-load of pipe for sewer and water extension projects and to accept the bid deemed most advantageous to the village. The committee was also authorized to have a hydrant removed from E. Main and Pine Street to permit construction of a new building in the area. The village received notice from the public service commission that sufficient hydrants were located in the area to provide adequate protection if the one in question were removed.

Approval was given to the purchase of street signs for the Cloverdale Plat area. Water and sewer permits were issued to Gordon Marquardt who will build at 1510 E. Main St., and Van's Realty who will build at 216 Lincoln Ave.

Hints Pressure Applied to Hire Investigator

Spice Says Wisconsin Democrats Called With Suggestions

Sheriff Calvin Spice hinted Friday that pressure to place a man in the position as sheriff's investigator was brought "three or four weeks" ago by state Democratic party officials.

Spice reported to the county's courts and administration committee that he had received several telephone calls from state party officials who strongly recommended an Outagamie County party member for one of the two positions open for investigator.

The two positions are to be filled sometime next week, Spice said. He indicated Friday that the man recommended by the party was not one of the two men he has tentatively selected for the post.

Explains to Callers

"I explained to the telephone callers that the position of sheriff investigator was not a political appointment," Spice said. Spice declined to name the telephone callers but said they "were from all over the state."

Spice, a Democrat, was elected to office last fall, defeating Republican Donald Heimritz. The election was considered a major Democratic break-through in predominantly Republican Outagamie County.

Spice told committee members that the man recommended by the party placed among the second 10 in test ratings. About 30 candidates took the test. Spice has received the names of the top five men and will pick two from that list. The appointments are to be confirmed by the county board through the civil service and salary committee.

Spice confirmed that the man recommended by party officials had not worked with him during his campaign last fall.

Oshkosh Beer Bill Amended By Council

Effective Date Changed: Will Study Matter

OSHKOSH — The common council Wednesday amended its beer ordinance to set back the effective date to Aug. 22 — after the council will have had an opportunity to act on petitions asking the ordinance be rescinded or a referendum be called.

Petitions were filed Tuesday with more than 4,600 signatures asking council action to rescind the ordinance which raises the beer drinking age in the city from 18 to 21, or to call a general referendum. The ordinance was passed June 19 by a 4-3 vote of the council.

By statute, City Clerk Roger Kliss has 15 days in which to audit the petitions and the council will then have a maximum of 30 days in which to act. Councilmen indicated a referendum will be called, probably to coincide with the next general election in April. A special election could also be called.

Ordinance Beaten
An ordinance submitted by Councilman John Fitzgerald to amend the age-raising ordinance, which would have gone into effect either today or Saturday, to go into effect after the referendum, was beaten when it failed to gain the required two-thirds vote to suspend council rules for a vote on the ordinance itself.

Councilman Carl Steiger, who had voted for the original ordinance raising the age, then agreed to move for reconsideration so the effective date of the ordinance could be moved back to August. The vote on reconsideration and on the amendment was 5-1 with Council President Erban Harenburg voting no both times.

No Change of Mind
Steiger indicated he was not changing his mind of the ordinance but was willing to extend effective date until the council acted on the petitions. He said he would oppose a special election for the referendum.

In other action, the council approved purchase of the Anger Jewelry Store property on the southwest corner of Main Street and Pearl Avenue for $36,000. A private assessing firm valued the property at $32,000. Taxes had been paid on an equalized value of $57,000.

The jewelry store will be permitted to remain in the building for a period of up to two years. The building will then be removed to widen and straighten the intersection at Main Street.

Members have been asked to pledge or channel their donations through this fund. Mrs. Emily Post is the auxiliary's fund drive chairman.

She brought one son, Benno Liebhaber, born June 18, 1845, from Bavaria, Germany. Early family records indicate she married a Mr. Stadler about 1848, the year Wisconsin joined the union. Strike Vote at K-C Plant Put Off

Spokesmen for Michigan Locals Say Ballot to be Taken Next Week

Strike votes scheduled for Sunday by two AFL-CIO affiliated unions at Kimberly-Clark's Munising, Mich., plant have been postponed pending the outcome of a joint meeting of top management and union officials at Chicago Monday.

Spokesmen for the Munising locals of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Papermill Workers and United Paper Makers and Paper Workers, said the vote would be taken next week when union international officials are available.

The 500 members of the two locals voted earlier in the week-end to conduct the vote.

No Comment
Kimberly-Clark Corp. officials had no comment on the latest development in the firm's labor relations with AFL-CIO unions with which it has contracts.

The dispute at the Michigan plant is said to be for the same reason that the 1,600 members of two locals at the Lakeview and Badger Globe operations at Neenah have authorized a strike.

They are objecting to a new insurance and retirement plan the Kimberly-Clark Corp. has proposed for the new contracts.

While the insurance matter appears to be the key to the dispute, which may involve other K-C plants in other parts of the country, automation and its effects in the past few years also appears to be an underlying factor in the labor-management unrest.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has scheduled the Chicago meeting at the Sherman House with union and company officials from five K-C plants in this area and other parts of the country.

Delay Action
The dispute originally involved only the Lakeview and Badger Globe plants at Neenah. Unionized employees there have agreed to defer a threatened strike action until July 10 at 6 p. m., the deadline for a company-union moratorium to expire.

James Despins, federal mediator assigned to the Green Bay district office, said other locals throughout the country have become "interested" in the proceedings.

In addition to top management bargainers, presidents of the international unions, will take part in Monday's all-important session. Officials of the two union locals at Neenah, and representatives of the Kimberly-Clark Corp., have withheld comment this week. Both have an agreement that all statements concerning negotiations during the moratorium will be made by Despins.

The company and union met Monday and recessed for the remainder of the week with no progress reported in negotiations.

Don't Use Ruffing to Keep on Top

When you have only a four-card trump suit you must often avoid ruffing in your own hand for fear of losing control of the play. It may pay to let an opponent take his tricks in a long suit, saving your own strength for later.

West opens the king of hearts, and South must show the stuff he is made of. If South ruffs, he cannot draw all of East's trumps; and without drawing trumps South cannot safely cash his long clubs.

The winning technique is to discard a diamond on the king of hearts. When West continues with another high heart, South must discard another low diamond. And when West proceeds with a third high heart, South must pitch a third diamond.

Now dummy is ready to take over the defense against the hearts. If West leads a fourth heart, dummy can ruff with the queen of spades. South still has his four trumps and can draw trumps without danger.

If West switches to a new suit, South can draw trumps and run the clubs. Either way, South is safe.

As it happens, South loses nothing by discarding the three diamonds on the first three tricks. South was going to lose those diamonds sooner or later in any case. He could gain nothing by ruffing, but could lose the game and rubber by wasting a trump from his hand.

Daily Question
With both sides vulnerable, partner opens the bidding with four hearts. The next player passes, and you hold: S A K J 10; H None; D A 9 5 4; C A K J 10. What do you say?

Answer: Bid six hearts. Your high cards will take care of partner's losers in the side suits, and you must hope that your partner can handle the trumps so as to lose not more than one trick. It is unusual to raise partner to a slam when you have not a single trump, but it would be cowardly to pass and foolish to try for any other slam.

A: Tileboard acquires a brown discoloration when subjected to high temperatures, as in the proximity of a stove, and cannot be washed off. Suggest applying a coat of good quality white enamel to the tileboard surface; follow manufacturer's instructions on the container for application.

Q: My wife used one of my good paint brushes to repaint the kitchen table and neglected to clean the brush afterwards. Now the paint on the brush is stone-hard. Is there any way to remove the paint?

A: Soak the brush in paint remover or in one of the brush-cleaning compounds now available at paint and hardware dealers.

The POWER of FAITH

(AP Newsfeature)
Kenneth Hepburn is Leader of a group of Fordham University students who form the Fordham Mexico project.

From their lay church association, they learned of a destitute, disease-racked Indian community near Ixmiquilpan, Mexico. Deciding to put their faith into action, Kenneth and 25 other boys, with the help of their bishop, families and friends, financed a summer trip to the Mexican community in 1962.

For two months they worked building 11 houses. The Indians taught them how to make adobe bricks; the boys contributed U.S. production line efficiency. They lived in three rooms in a 400-year-old monastery and were fed by the Sisters of Mercy.

The needs of the Indians seemed insurmountable, but the boys did what they could in the time that they had.

Kenneth, as the group's articulate spokesman, devoted much time this past school year, talking and showing color slides to outside organizations to stimulate interest in the project. They are going back this summer to continue the work they started. When asked what he and the others had learned from their experience, Kenneth answers, "We came back realizing our own potential and great responsibility."

Was He From Nazareth?

Piece of Marble May Confirm Christ's Home

BY CARL C. CRAFT
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Was Jesus from Nazareth? Indeed, was there a Nazareth in his time, or was it invented to satisfy pilgrims to the place where Jesus lived?

A workman's accidental discovery of a fragment of a Hebrew inscription on marble may help answer these questions. The fragment is being studied by the Israel Department of Antiquities of Hebrew University.

Shalom Attiah noticed the chunk of marble in his wheelbarrow at an excavation site at Caesarea Israel, on the Mediterranean Coast.

Dr. Jerry Vardaman, archaeology professor at the Southern Baptist Theological Seminary in Louisville, who had charge of the digging, recalled that workmen had been told to be watchful because some searchers were growing disheartened and careless near the end of the season.

The seminary has a copy of the fragment, which is said to add to evidence that Nazareth did exist in the time of Jesus. The inscription on the marble was part of a list of Jewish priestly families and the towns where they lived in Galilee.

Hebrew References
Authorities place the fragment in the period of the late second to the fourth century, A.D. Dr. Vardaman said the inscription contains the earliest known Hebrew references to Nazareth.

Many scholars have contended that Jesus lived in Chorazin or Capernaum. The Name "Nazareth" as applied to Jesus sometimes is said to refer to a pre-Christian religious group.

Skepticism on the subject was noted in the Encyclopedia Biblica: "It is very doubtful whether the beautiful mountain village of Nazareth itself was really the dwelling place of Jesus. No such town as Nazareth is mentioned in the Old Testament, in Josephus, or in the Talmud."

Dr. Vardaman said he is certain

Boy Wants Out When Shotgun Marriage Proves False Alarm

BY ANN LANDERS
DEAR ANN LANDERS: I am a heartbroken mother who needs some advice.
Our 21-year-old son is as handsome as a movie star. He has been chased by girls since he was 13 and naturally he is a little conceited and spoiled.

Six months ago he started to go steady with a little dried up peanut whose father is a bus driver. I almost had a heart attack when he brought the girl home to dinner. She didn't say more than four sentences the whole evening. It was, "How do you do. Please pass the salt. May I have another roll?" — and "Thanks for dinner."

Five weeks ago our son told us he and the peanut had to get married right away. What could we say but "Go ahead?"

Last week he announced she had made a mistake and there is no baby on the way. He wants to get out of this marriage and we want to help him get out. We feel he was trapped. What can we do? — Mother of an Honorable Boy

Dear Mother: No sympathy from this corner, Madame. You sound like a lovely group. I hold no brief for your daughter-in-law but if your son was such an honorable citizen he wouldn't be a candidate for the trap. See your clergyman and a lawyer about the possibility of an annulment.

DEAR ANN LANDERS: Once again it is "cottage time." Please print this letter. Thousands of wives will be grateful.
Our cottage is our summer home. We welcome friends and relatives for weekends and holidays. We make salads, prepare steaks for barbecue and the bar is always open. We want our guests to relax and enjoy themselves. But why must they be so utterly helpless?

After a swim they walk in, soaking wet, leaving puddles in the hallways, the bathroom and the bedroom. Wet towels are left on the floor or on the beds. They saunter out to get some sun after lunch and when snack time rolls around no one lifts a hand some sort of settlement existed at the present site of Nazareth in Jesus' time.

He said recent excavations there—along with the prize find of the fragment—have produced strong archaeological support for the scriptural statement that Jesus was from Nazareth.

Soviets Indicate Deal Made on Cuban Crisis

Moscow Says U.S. Must Now Recognize Eastern-Bloc Nations

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON — The American people don't always read the fine print in the contracts that their chosen representatives make with foreign governments. Then, a few months later, the clarifying truth sometimes emerges.

Despite the denials last October that any "deal" was made by President Kennedy with the Soviet Union to secure the withdrawal of Soviet missiles from Cuba, it turns out that the Moscow government at least construes it that way now and announced that it intends to hold the American government to its promises — allegedly a recognition of the Communist-bloc countries, including East Germany, as a military alliance confronting NATO.

The chain of events has all the earmarks of a carefully planned maneuver in diplomacy. First, Premier Khrushchev made a speech at East Berlin on Tuesday of this week in which he said that a test-ban agreement by itself couldn't lessen the danger of a thermonuclear war, and then added:

"That is why the Soviet government believes that already, at the conclusion of a test-ban agreement, it is necessary to take also another big step toward easing international tension and strengthening confidence between states: To sign a nonaggression pact between the two main military groups of states — the NATO countries and the Warsaw treaty states.

Test Ban Pact
"A test-ban agreement, combined with the simultaneous signing of a nonaggression pact between the two groups of states, will create a fresh international climate more favorable for a solution of major problems of our time, including disarmament."

American officials were at first said to be "puzzled" by this linking of the two things — the test-ban treaty and the pact with the Communist-bloc countries, including the formal recognition thereby of the puppet regime of East Germany. But it wasn't until First Deputy Premier Anastas Mikoyan made a statement during a Fourth of July reception at the U. S. Embassy in Moscow that the Russian game was disclosed. He said that all conditions for the signing of a partial nuclear-test ban — that is, one not covering underground tests but prohibiting other tests and bypassing inspections — have been met and that it is now up to the West.

Moscow Dispatches
News dispatches from Moscow stressed that Mr. Khrushchev had demanded a "simultaneous" signing of the two agreements, and Deputy Premier Mikoyan pointed out that Mr. Kennedy had, in effect, agreed to this concept in a letter which the President wrote to the Soviet Premier last October during the Cuban missile crisis. It read as follows:

"I would like to say again that the United States is very much interested in reducing tensions and halting the arms race; and if your letter signifies that you are prepared to discuss a detente affecting NATO and the Warsaw pact, we are quite prepared to consider with our allies any useful proposals."

The foregoing was sent by the President on October 27, 1962, and the very next day Mr. Khrushchev announced that he would withdraw Soviet missiles and troops from Cuba.

Taken literally, Mr. Kennedy's note agreed only to "consider" any useful proposals. He spoke of a "detente," which the dictionary of diplomacy defines, not as meaning any formal agreement, but "a relaxing, as of strained relations between nations."

Mr. Khrushchev says he wants the same thing, but American officials called the ambassadors of Britain, France and West Germany to the State Department in Washington on Wednesday evening to tell them that the United States does not intend to sign a test-ban agreement at the price of recognizing the Warsaw pact.

Highest Price
It could be, of course, that Mr. Khrushchev is stating his highest price now — just before the big conference between East and West on the subject of a test ban opens on July 15 in Moscow — and that he will be willing to accept some variation of the whole plan later on. But it is evident that he construes Mr. Kennedy's letter of Oct. 27, 1962, as a concession and that, if the "deal" isn't lived up to as he wants it — a recognition of the Soviet conquest of the countries of Eastern Europe — then perhaps there will be a slowing down, if not an abandonment, of the promised withdrawal of the 10,000 or more Soviet troops still stationed in Cuba.

All this could mean a choice between two evils — the continued defiance of the Monroe doctrine, or American acceptance of an unreliable agreement to ban nuclear tests, together with formal American approval of the Soviet occupation of Hungary and the other Communist-bloc countries that once were independent.

Lightning Strikes as Funeral Takes Place

UDINE, Italy (AP)—Lightning struck a church near this farm town Friday during a funeral for three peasants killed by a lightning bolt earlier this week while working in a field.

The new bolt spread panic among the mourners and one man was hospitalized.

These Two Archers, Rick Derscheid, left, Troop 71, and Christ Dubey, Troop 29, both of Appleton, check their target during a two-week junior leader training course conducted by the Valley Council, Boy Scouts of America, for boys from various troops in the council. The session ends today.

HINTS FROM HELOISE

Dear Heloise:

Many of us keep poisonous items in our medicine cabinet or under our kitchen sink.

Sometimes, when in a hurry, these items are picked up by mistake. To avoid a fatal mistake in our household of "12" I tie a little tiny bell from the dime store around the neck of each bottle. If the bottle is then picked up, the bell tinkles and anyone in our family knows immediately it is dangerous.

These bells may be taken from children's toys, or purchased at your dime store.

Cautious
Please give the entire "dozen" in your family a kiss from us all. You probably saved a life! Great idea.

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
Plastic does not possess surface hardness which means that it scratches, marks, melt, etc. Or, it just gets soft, becomes porous and moisture absorbs stains, odors, bacteria, etc.

After the surface becomes damaged, which happens in ordinary usage, it is definitely not sanitary. When refrigerator storage containers begin to smell they should be replaced.

I have had excellent success cleaning my bathroom grout with household bleach and a toothbrush, followed by your kerosene soap-pad treatment for the tiles and a beautiful bathroom results.

Marion L. Mellinger

I use a soap-filled pad, dipped in PURE kerosene to remove soap film from bathroom tiles. Scrub with it until the film is removed. Once the film is off, keep it off by wiping the tile weekly with a washcloth dipped in the kerosene. This will put a beautiful film on the tile and prevent accumulation of more film.

Do not use this on floors. It's slippery. Broken hips are expensive and also painful! Slippery floors are often the cause. And those throw rugs

Heloise

Dear Heloise:
For those of you who have aluminum around the edges of your sink, that leave awful marks on your clothing when you happen to rub against it, my husband has solved the problem.

Clean the metal well with some good cleaner. Take a piece of cotton, dip it in a bit of benzine, wipe and let dry. Apply clear lacquer after this.

The lacquer will wear off eventually. And needless to say it must be lacquered again.

Follow the caution on the benzine bottle and the lacquer can. They are flammable.

Dear Heloise:
For those who like to eat corn on the cob, try buttering the corn in this fashion:

If you have corn holders, use them. Then holding each end of the corn, roll it back and forth on a quarter pound stick of butter or margarine BEFORE serving it!

This does mess up the stick of butter for it can be used later when cooking. For those who do not have corn holders make your own with toothpicks.

Mrs. Wayne Blanchett
One can use the key from the end of a coffee or shortening can for corn holders, too. I found that the margarine, when put on the ear of corn, right after being removed from the pot kept the kernels from shrinking!

Cures Are Possible for Localized Loss of Hair

BY JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M.D.

Today's problem involves a particular type of baldness, and what I write about it may have little or no bearing on general loss of hair.

However, this special kind is frequent enough to bring quite a few questions. Here's one:

Dear Doctor: I have bare spots on my head that appeared only recently. I use no dye or rinses, and only mild shampoos. The spots are the size of a 50-cent piece. Can anything be done for this?

MRS. A. B.

Possibly yes. In fact, probably yes. The description precisely fits a condition called alopecia areata — localized loss of hair.

Two widely different approaches are employed.

The first is to look for some local disease of the scalp — fungus infections, ringworm. A dermatologist (skin specialist) is the proper specialist for this aspect.

Nervous Tension
If no such skin infection is found, then nervous tension is

There are different causes of angina, but heart disease is by far the most frequent, and it should be regarded as serious unless a case is proved to be otherwise. Rather than go over the angina story again, I suggest that you send for my booklet, "How to Take Care of Your Heart," and read it carefully. It discusses angina in detail. (For a copy of this heart booklet, send 20 cents in coin, and a stamped, self-addressed envelope to Dr. Molner, in care of the Post-Crescent.)

Hostage Freed; Police Arrest Killer of Two

ferred no resistance, the detective said.

Police said Coleman had wounded his brother and two other persons after shooting his wife and sister-in-law Friday. He forced the Kaminski girl to accompany him as a hostage after holding her family at bay with two pistols for four hours.

Police said Coleman slew his wife Millie, 37, and Mrs. Ruby Coleman, his 43-year-old sister-in-law, after a police guard protecting his wife at her request had departed.

Millie Coleman had fought with her husband and, after threatening to leave him, stayed at the home of friends. She asked for police protection Friday while she returned to her home to gather clothes.

The police guard accompanied her, stayed for some time and left when Coleman did not appear, authorities said.

The Shootings

The shootings took place about 5 p.m. Millie Coleman was found in her kitchen while Ruby Coleman was found in the kitchen of her home nearby.

Police said Coleman also shot his 52-year-old brother, Harry; Le Roy Edwards, 48, a neighbor, and Mrs. Marianna Kube, 28, a visitor in the neighborhood. The men were reported in critical condition at a hospital.

Mrs. Kube was listed as fair. After shooting his wife, sister-in-law and brother, according to police, Coleman entered a car and called over Edwards, also a Negro, and shot him.

Mrs. Kube, who is white, was visiting her mother-in-law, Mrs. Charles Kube. When Coleman entered through a side door, police said, the older woman fled up stairs, but her daughter-in-law didn't make it.

Police found Coleman's station wagon abandoned about four blocks away. They said the suspect apparently walked another four blocks and barged in on about eight members of the Kaminski family.

is not difficult to see that those who talked loudly about "general complete disarmament" being the only way to world peace and those who spread the illusion that the imperialists would agree to disarm of their own free will, were deceiving the peoples and diverting them from the struggle against the moral enemy of peace — imperialism and old and new colonialism.

Assembly Has Brief Session as Compromise Bill Work Continues

MADISON (AP)—The State Assembly conducted a brief informal session as work progressed behind the scenes to prepare the tax-budget compromise bill for action next week.

A new 1,000 edition printing of the bill, which passed the Senate last week, is nearly completed and will provide lawmakers an up-to-date copy of the bill when the Assembly begins debate on the measure.

The bill was printed once, but several sections were left out and a new printing was ordered.

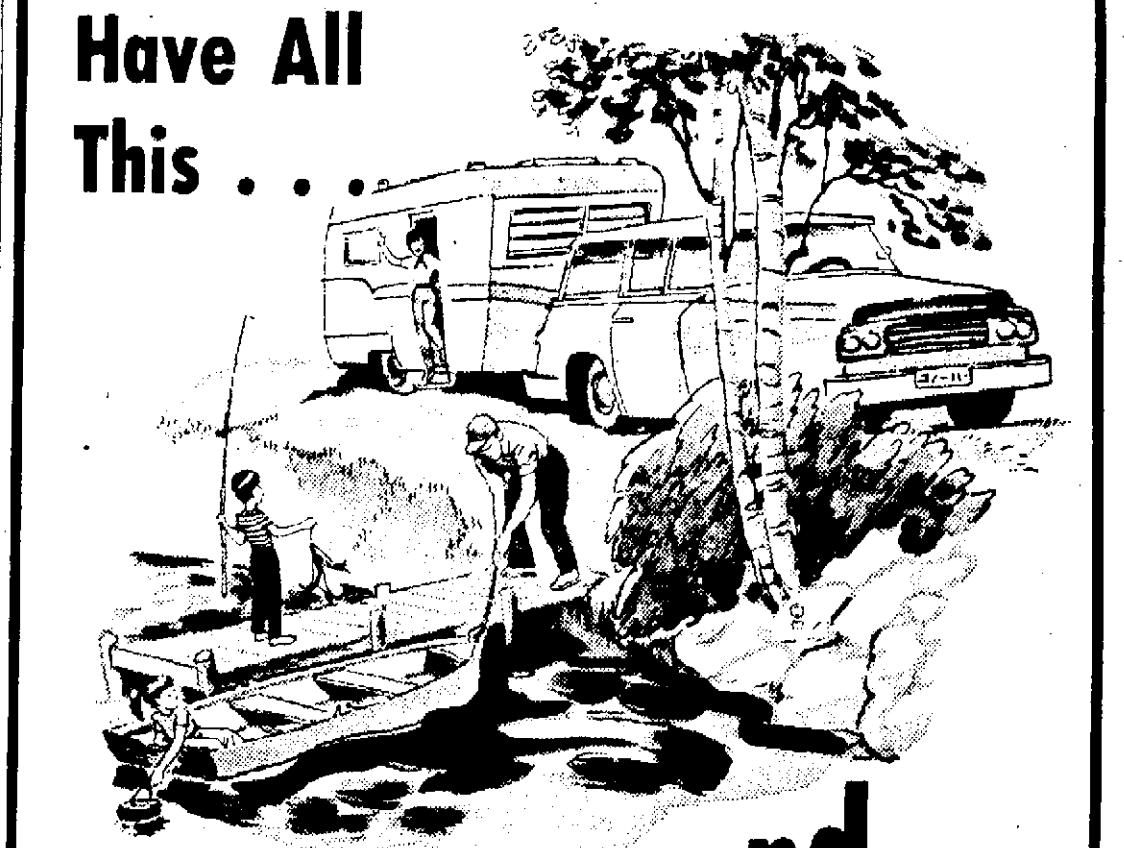

More than 100 Assembly amendments to the measure are being drawn and probably will be submitted to Assembly clerks Monday.

There were plans to have most of the amendments in by noon today, but the Legislative Reference Library requires lawmakers to pick up and sign for their amendments at the library and most members won't be back in Madison until Monday.

Area Theater Season Resembles Festival

Three Summer Groups in Fox Cities; Play Bills Offer Wide Entertainment

BY JINGO
Tonight starts the summer season for Fox Cities community theater. With the schedule ahead, the next few weeks actually could be called a festival. That much has been made of much less.

Let's see what we have to work with. There are three theatrical troupes working in three communities in the Fox Cities. One, the Oshkosh Junior Theater, draws its personnel nearly exclusively from its home community. However, some adult and professional assistance comes from other Fox Cities.

The major community theaters, on the other hand, are truly Fox Cities troupes and worthy representatives of a Fox Cities summer theatrical "festival."

Both the Riverside Players of Neenah and Appleton's Attic Theater draw crew and cast from all of the Fox Cities and, often, stretch beyond the close confines of the cities.

Cities and, often, stretch beyond the close confines of the cities. Another aspect of a "festival" also is present. The audiences of all three troupes come from considerable distances as well as from the neighborhood.

The final festival facet is the scope of the dramatic presentations on the bill of fare. The schedule holds a sweep of American theatrical efforts from the mighty '30s that opens the season at the Attic tonight to the wonder-presentations. A festival should be an exhibition of the quality of the community. A drama festival puts the community on inspection as surely as a fair.

It's a responsibility that must weigh heavily on the shoulders of the producers and the casts. Neither party can be satisfied with half-way measures.

In the "sophisticate" literature and thinking of the "big cities," community theater produced by volunteers is a thing of ridicule peopled by dilettantes and staged for social rather than artistic ends.

It has been many years since such a "theater" existed in the Fox Cities. The standards that have grown up around our community theaters through the years give the lie to the "big city" idea of the effort.

Past experience would become a mockery instead of a guide if these standards did not continue to shine forth this season. It is unlikely that they will be tarnished.

Our dramatic "festival" will be produced by a mere handful of Fox Cities residents behind the footlights. Their efforts, on the record, should be patronized by as many Fox Cities residents on this side of the footlights as possible. We've got a winner in our theater. Let's feed it with our attendance and applause.

Kennedy Movie Rather Drab

Reviewer Finds PT 109 Offers Stock Characters

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — For the first time, the exploits of an incumbent president have been depicted in a major movie.

The results are not likely to give comfort to either the President's adherents or opponents.

The movie is "PT109," and informed citizens should need no explanation of what it is about.

For others, it should be explained that John F. Kennedy was skipper of a PT boat that was destroyed by the Japanese in World War II.

Save Survivors
His leadership managed to save all the survivors from death or capture.

The story itself offers ample opportunities for movie treatment. Warner Bros. has taken advantage of some and badly muffed others.

The plus elements are pictorial. "PT109" presents a vivid recreation of the Pacific War in its early stages.

It is in the human aspect that "PT109" falls down. Perhaps in a less sophisticated era the dramatics could have gotten by. But today's audiences require a bit more credibility.

Sameness
The trouble is that the characters seldom act any different from how they have appeared in Warner Bros. war movies from "Destination Tokyo" to "Battle Cry."

There is a sameness to the figures and an inevitability to the dialogue.

Cartoons Build Into Thriving New Industry

Hanna-Barbera Firm Grows From 3 People To 250 in 6 Years

BY BOB THOMAS
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The house that a hound built now rises in modern splendor over the historic Calhoun Pass, gateway to Hollywood.

Of course, Huckleberry Hound wasn't the only one who built the new home of Hanna-Barbera Productions. He got some help from the Flintstones, Yogi Bear, the Jetsons, Top Cat, Quick Draw McGraw, Touche Turtle, Wally Gator, equal.

Lippy Lion and Loopy De Loop. Quite a crew of house builders. And the saga of Bill Hanna and Joe Barbera is quite a success story. Just six years ago they started in business with a writer, animator and cameraman.

Today, 250 people labor in the new Hanna-Barbera plant, the most modern cartoon factory in the world. So far, the company has turned out 760 cartoon shorts for television and theaters. Coming up: "Whistle Your Way Back Home," an animated feature starring the stalwart hound, Huck.

"Tom and Jerry" Hanna and Barbera, both 20-year veterans of "Tom and Jerry" at MGM, have had many surprises with their success. Not the least has been the boom of the merchandizing end of their enterprise.

"We never realized how much money there was to be found in character products," said Hanna. The Flintstones, Yogi Bear, the Jetsons, Top Cat, Quick Draw McGraw and Barbera's are separate and equal.

"When we were at MGM, we never did much about merchandise tie-ups. There were too many executives and lawyers to go through."

That aspect was not neglected when they went independent. Now their characters adorn products in 44 countries; that's how far the cartoons are circulated.

400 Licenses
"In this country alone, we have 480 licensees who manufacture 2,000 different items," said Hanna. They include pajamas, rattles, booties, ties, jewelry, comic books, all kinds of toys, wading pools, lamps, bubble bath, etc.

"Seven million Huckleberry Hound shoes have been made in Japan. Rugs are made in Belgium. There is a soda pop in Sweden called Flinta, after the Flintstones. We sold a million of the Pebbles dolls at $5 a copy."

Indians Trip Yanks, White Sox Suffer 8-3 Setback From Boston

Senators Win 4th Straight, Orioles And Twins Split

BY JIM HICKLEMAN
Associated Press Sports Writer

You can't say much for the way John Wyatt has been pitching lately, but you've got to give the Kansas City reliever credit for versatility.

Big John finds a lot of ways to let the other side's winning run across.

On Friday night the Detroit Tigers beat Wyatt and the Athletics 4-3 with a seventh-inning run produced on a walk, Wyatt's throwing error, a sacrifice and Wyatt's off-target peg to the plate after fielding a grounder.

All this came after Wyatt's horrendous July Fourth at Washington, where he balked the deciding run across in one game and walked it across in the other in the Senators' doubleheader sweep of the A's.

In other American League action Friday night, good-hitting pitchers Dick Donovan and Earl Wilson sparked Cleveland and Boston to victories, left-hander Don Rudolph won for the first time in two months as the Senators kept their mild streak going, and Minnesota pulled out of a slump by gaining a doubleheader split at Baltimore.

Donovan rapped a double and single in the Indians' 4-1 victory over New York's first-place Yankees. Wilson tripled in two runs in a six-run first inning and later added a single as the Red Sox battered the Chicago White Sox 8-3. The last-place Senators won their fourth in a row, 5-1 over the Los Angeles Angels, behind Rudolph's seven-hit pitching. And a flurry of late scoring carried the Twins over the Orioles 7-5 after Baltimore had won the opening game 4-3.

Wyatt Sent In

The A's tied Detroit 3-3 in the top of the seventh and Wyatt was sent in to face the Tigers in the bottom of the inning. Bill Freehan drew a leadoff walk, then Wyatt threw wide to second trying for a force after pitcher Mickey Lolich's bunt. The runners were sacrificed along and Freehan scored the deciding run when Wyatt picked up Dick McAuliffe's roller to the mound and threw high and wide to the plate.

The victory was Detroit's fourth in a row and the loss was the A's fourth straight.

Donovan smacked a double in the third inning against loser Jim Bouton, helping the Indians to their first run, then singled and scored in the fifth, when Cleveland made it 3-0. The right-hander held the Yanks to six hits, including Hector Lopez' seventh-inning homer.

Despite the loss the Yankees stayed 4½ games in front, with the Twins taking over second by two percentage points over the White Sox.

Wilson in 9-Hitter

Wilson's tremendous triple climaxed the Red Sox' opening inning outburst against White Sox starter Dave DeBusschere. Pete Ward homered for Chicago in the fourth and Wilson gave up two more runs in the seventh, but went all the way with a nine-hitter.

Rudolph was locked in a 1-1 tie with Dan Osinski of the Angels when the Senators broke loose in the bottom of the seventh for three runs. Don Zimmer's single sent in the tie-breaker and Ed Brinkman singled in two more. Rudolph, 4-9, last won on May 8.

Orioles Start Fast

The Orioles rushed four runs across against Ray Moore before a man was out in the first inning of their opener and held on to win their fourth in a row, and deal the Twins their fourth straight setback.

It appeared both streaks would be extended in the second game, with Baltimore ahead 5-1 after five innings—but the Twins bounced back. A two-run homer by John Goryl in the sixth, and homers by Jim Hall and Rich Rollins in the eighth tied it. Then in the ninth, Vic Power singled for his sixth hit of the doubleheader, and two-out singles by Bob Allison. Rollins and Goryl pushed Minnesota in front by two.

Twins relief star Bill Dailey was the winner and rookie Herm Starrette the loser.

Orioles' Wes Stock Headed For Second Unbeaten Season

BY GORDON BEARD

BALTIMORE (AP) — Pitcher Wes Stock of the Baltimore Orioles may be headed for his second unbeaten season in the major leagues. That's not bad, even for a relief specialist.

The slender right-hander picked up his sixth victory without a loss Thursday, holding the Los Angeles Angels to three hits over the final six innings as Baltimore came from behind to triumph 7-4.

Stock, who posted a 5-0 record in 1961, now has a 16-4 lifetime mark in the major leagues for a winning percentage of .800.

It's a good thing the 29-year-old bullpen ace can throttle the opposing batters. He certainly can't hit. Much has been written about the inability of Hank Aguirre of the Detroit Tigers and Bob Buhl of the Chicago Cubs to make base hits. But Stock's efforts at the plate make them look like batting champs.

Buhl has rapped out 58 hits during his career in 649 at bats for an average of .089. Aguirre is 14 for 189, or .074.

Stock, meanwhile, is still looking for his first hit after being blanked 34 consecutive times at bat.

Complete Futility

Maybe his Stock's complete futility at the plate which inspires his teammates. The Orioles, not exactly explosive at bat, seem to come alive with Stock on the mound. Perhaps because they feel confident Wes will check the opposition if they score enough runs to go ahead.

Of the six games won by Stock this season, the Orioles were tied when he entered the contest on only one occasion. The other five times, Baltimore trailed by one to three runs.

For the year, Stock has an run average of 3.09 for 49-23 innings in 30 appearances.

He credits lost strikes for his success, and says he usually does all right as long as he stays ahead of the hitters.

"I'm not overpowering, so they know what to expect," Stock said. "That's why I'm working on a curve ball, to add another pitch."

First place winners and runnersup in the four heat events follow: First heat, Jim Merhouse (Appleton) and Joe Ruedinger (Oshkosh); second, Glenn Thorpe (Appleton) and Joe Ruedinger (Oshkosh); third, Chuck Holowinski (Menasha) and Reiden; fourth, Al Truedel (Kimberly) and Breitner.

Continental Coffee swarmed all over KRA for an 18-10 victory in the Women's Fast Pitch League Wednesday night.

The winners had 11 hits, with Gloria Finger and Enid Cleaves each producing three. Joan Bahre and Phyllis Falck shared mound duties and allowed KRA a total of 10 hits.

Carolyn and Marilyn Resch, Mrs. Jim Nirschl, Jeanne Gossens and Mary Lou Aerts each had a pair of hits for the losers.

Subway forfeited to Jack's Bar.

Ogden's Retain Lead in Hortonsville Basketball League

HORTONSVILLE — Ogden's (3-0) downed Anderson 46-44 to hold onto first place in the Recreation basketball league.

Joe Steffen and Wayne Winters sparked the come-from-behind victory in the last quarter. Steffen ended the game with 24 points.

Anderson, Pribe and Cousineau were the high scorers for Anderson's team.

Bellie's picked up a 32-42 win over Kluge's. Lee Keller had 23 for Bellie's, and Gary Kluge had 23 for Kluge's.

Manitowoc's Bucky Wagner captured the feature race at the Outagamie County Speedway Thursday night. Kimberly's Clyde Schumacher was the runnerup, with Red Isaacson, of Sister Bay, third.

George Giesen, of Menasha, had his car hanged up pretty badly in the semi-feature when he was pushed into a wall Buzz Kananman of Shiocton, won the event with Appleton's Vern Learman the runnerup. Whitney was third in a race that also had Cliff Miller losing a wheel.

A 3-car collision, involving cars driven by Dick Jennemann, Bob Bennett and Don Benton highlighted the heat events. The accident occurred in the third heat.

Stan Gracyalny rolled over in the last lap of the second heat, and Emory Breitrick lost a wheel in the first heat.

Tennis World Praises McKinley as U. S. Tries For Wimbledon Sweep

Decides to Wait On $50,000 Offer To Go Professional

WIMBLEDON, England (AP)—

Former Wimbledon tennis champion joined today in praising Chuck McKinley, first American to win the men's title in eight years as Billie Jean Moffitt went out to try to complete a U.S. sweep of the singles.

The acrobatic star from San Antonio, Tex., crushed Australia's Fred Stolle 9-7, 6-1, 6-4 in the final Friday. He went through the tournament without losing a set.

McKinley's win ended the domination of Wimbledon by the Austrians, who had won the men's title seven times in the previous eight years.

The exception was 1959, when Alex Olmedo of Peru was champion.

Tony Trabert, the last American to win the title, in 1955, said: "McKinley was great. This is a fine thing for American tennis. He is a worthy champion."

Jaroslav Drobny, Czech-born Briton who won at Wimbledon in 1954, said: "McKinley proved himself a worthy holder of the world's most coveted tennis crown. It will do the game a great deal of good to see the end of the Australian domination."

It took McKinley 35 minutes to make any real impression on Stolle, a lanky man with one of the biggest services in the game. McKinley got his first service break in the 15th game, and from then on the Australian was tamed. Stolle admitted afterwards that in the last set he didn't know how to serve because he could never tell what McKinley would do next.

McKinley insisted that he will not consider turning professional until he has completed his mathematics studies at Trinity University in San Antonio.

McKinley said that Trabert, boss of the professional tennis circuit, offered him $50,000 dollars for the first year if he would join the pro tour.

"I hope we can get him later," Trabert said. "I told him the offer will still stand when he finished college next January."

McKinley's immediate plans include a tournament in Sweden next week.

Miss Moffitt, 19-year-old girl from Long Beach, Calif., faced Australia's Margaret Smith.

Billie Jean, unseeded, has fought to the women's final by beating three seeded stars—Lesley Turner of Australia, Maria Bueno of Brazil and Mrs. Ann Haydon Jones of Britain.

Jim Schultz and Ray Heinritz each had two hits to pace Bleier's 6-hit attack.

Willie Bolwerk and John Kennedy hooked up in a mound duel, with Kennedy finally winning out after each hurler gave up three hits over seven innings.

Don Blaes had a pair of hits for Northside, and Clair Bolwerk had two hits for Adler Brau.

Bud Horn hurled the Reetz' victory, allowing only six hits and fanning five. Jack Plamann got two of the safeties. Don Hawkins belted three hits for Reetz'.

Strike Vote at K-C Plant Put Off

Spokesmen for Michigan Locals Say Ballot to be Taken Next Week

Strike votes scheduled for Sunday by two AFL-CIO affiliated unions at Kimberly-Clark's Munising, Mich., plant have been postponed pending the outcome of a joint meeting of top management and union officials at Chicago Monday.

Spokesmen for the Munising lo-icals of the International Brotherhood of Pulp, Sulphite and Paper-mill Workers and United Paper Makers and Paper Workers, said the vote would be taken next week when union international officials are available.

The 800 members of the two locals voted earlier in the week-end to conduct the vote.

No Comment

Kimberly-Clark Corp. officials had no comment on the latest development in the firm's labor relations with AFL-CIO unions with which it has contracts.

The dispute at the Michigan plant is said to be for the same reason that the 1,000 members of two locals at the Lakeview and Badger Globe operations at Neenah have authorized a strike. They are objecting to a new insurance and retirement plan the Kimberly-Clark Corp. has proposed for the new contracts.

While the insurance matter appears to be the key to the dispute, which may involve other K-C plants in other parts of the country, automation and its effects in the past few years also appears to be an underlying factor in the labor-management unrest.

The Federal Mediation and Conciliation Service has scheduled the Chicago meeting at the Sherman House with union and company officials from five K-C plants in this area and other parts of the country.

Delay Action

The dispute originally involved only the Lakeview and Badger Globe plants at Neenah. Unionized employees there have agreed to defer a threatened strike action until July 10 at 6 p.m., the deadline for a company-union moratorium to expire.

James Despins, federal mediator assigned to the Green Bay district office, said other locals throughout the country have become "interested" in the proceedings.

In addition to top management bargainers, presidents of the international unions, will take part in Monday's all-important session. Officials of the two union locals at Neenah, and representatives of the Kimberly-Clark Corp., have withheld comment this week. Both have an agreement that all statements concerning negotiations during the moratorium will be made by Despins.

The company and union met Monday and recessed for the remainder of the week with no progress reported in negotiations.

Judge Cane Voids 7 Neenah Reassessments

Orders Board of Review to Redetermine True Market Value of Property Involved

OSHKOSH — Circuit Judge Arnold J. Cane Friday voided seven reassessments made as part of the Neenah reassessment last year and directed the Neenah Board of Review to redetermine the true market value of each of the parcels involved.

The properties involved and the reassessments as set by the Neenah Board of Review last fall are:

Estate of Paul Strange Sr., 901 E. Forest Ave., Neenah, $61,020 for land and $21,580 for improvements, totaling $82,600.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Besser Jr., four parcels at 415 E. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah, $24,580 for land and $27,420 for improvements, totaling $52,000.

Dr. R. C. Brown, 256 Lake Shore Drive, Neenah, $7,020 for land and $30,780 for improvements, totaling $37,800.

Other Property

Mr. and Mrs. Norman Brown, 527 E. Wisconsin Ave., Neenah, $13,330 for land and $52,400 for improvements, totaling $65,730.

Ann Sharpless, 95 Fourth St., Neenah, $14,390 for land and $9,610 for improvements, totaling $24,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Jorgensen, 411 Park St., Neenah, $17,550 for land and $30,650 for improvements, totaling $48,200.

Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Gardner, 513 Park St., Neenah, $33,950 for improvements, totaling $51,500.

Judge Cane declared that for tax purposes, property must be assessed at its fair market value. This is the amount it will sell for where the seller is willing, but not obligated, to sell and the buyer willing, but not obligated, to buy. There is a presumption that the assessor's valuation is correct until it is met by credible evidence. Judge Cane continued. Numerous decisions of the courts have pointed out that property is to be assessed at its sale value rather than its intrinsic value.

"There has been no showing of bad faith on the part of either the assessor or the Board of Review of the City of Neenah," he wrote in his decision.

Brokers Testify

"It is obvious to this Court, however, that these assessments are arbitrary, particularly in that the Board of Review has disregarded the testimony of reliable real estate brokers who testified in behalf of the various property owners."

Judge Cane decreed that the assessments made in those seven cases should be set aside and remanded to the Neenah Board of Review to determine the true market value of each of the parcels involved.

He instructed the board to consider the testimony of the professional real estate brokers who testified and also to carefully consider the principles governing the assessment of property for tax purposes as set forth in the Supreme Court decisions and the state statutes.

Files Claim Against Appleton

An 82-year-old LaCrosse woman has filed notice of a $10,000 claim against the City of Appleton for injuries received in a fall on College Avenue June 8.

Mrs. Miriam D. Taplin blamed poor condition of the sidewalk for her fall while crossing the street at the College Avenue and Oneida Street intersection.

She was taken to St. Elizabeth Hospital in an ambulance and received treatment for a broken hip and other injuries.

Mrs. Taplin claims the sidewalk was "dangerous and unsafe and that insufficiencies and want of repairs and said dangers and unsafe condition" caused her to fall.

The next step is for the city to either approve or deny the claim. Mrs. Taplin was in the city for the Lawrence College commencement.

Scope of Engineering Study For Winnebago Port Decided

Works Board Turns Down Keller Request

Judge Asked Group To Hold Meetings At His Convenience

The Appleton Board of Public Works has informed County Judge Gustave Keller it will be unable to hold its weekly meetings at his convenience.

Recently, Judge Keller sent a letter to the board requesting it hold meetings on a day other than Tuesdays and Thursdays to enable the city attorney to appear in court those days.

Keller pointed out there are a large number of drunken driving cases to be prosecuted by the city. Because the city attorney is required to attend public works meetings, cases cannot be tried on the day the board is in session.

The board, in a report to the common council this week, said it considered Judge Keller's request but did not find it feasible to change meetings from Tuesday.

Reserves Day

City Atty. Frederick Froehlich explained to the board that there have been a large number of drunken driving cases. Judge Keller has been reserving a day each week to try the city cases as a convenience to Froehlich.

"At the rate we are getting these cases, some will be scheduled into the winter," Froehlich told the board.

Board members said they felt there should be no problem in disposing of court cases because there were three judges at the courthouse.

Froehlich explained that one jurist handled traffic matters under the present judicial setup.

"I thought the reorganized court setup was too expedite justice," commented Mayor Clarence Mitchell. He said the board would like to change its meeting date for the jurist but indicated there were too many other meetings during the week that he and aldermen had to attend.

Firm to Analyze Data Pertaining To Demands in Outagamie Area

OSHKOSH — The scope of the engineering study and long-range projection plans for the Winnebago County airport were agreed on Friday at a meeting of the aviation committee of the County Board and representatives of the firm of Howard, Needles, Tammen and Bergendoff, engineering consultants.

Several changes were made in some of the factors in the study. One was that the engineering firm should obtain, review and analyze data pertaining to existing and future demand for air transport service in Winnebago County and the adjoining air service area, which includes Outagamie, Waupaca, Fond du Lac and Green Lake counties.

This information will include forecasts of population growth and economic development, estimates of commercial and general aviation usage and future aircraft types and operational characteristics.

Another Change

The other change dealt with the costs for an alternate to the present airport. The original agreement suggestion as prepared by the engineering firm was to "determine costs of alternative facilities to meet future needs and analyze relative service afforded to all portions of the county, together with adequacy to meet regional air transport needs."

This was changed to read that the consultant should evaluate the potential of the existing facility and determine the cost of an alternate to meet the future needs if it is concluded that the present county airport cannot adequately meet those needs."

Joseph Looper, member of the engineering firm that will make the survey, indicated he desired information from the Harland Bartholomew and Associates firm which handled the Oshkosh city planning and also from the Fox Regional Planning Commission. He also planned to confer with the State Highway Department regarding future plans for State 26.

State 26 Site

He said his report will show the costs with State 26 remaining at its present location at the south end of the airport and also the costs for alternative locations for the highway.

Both Looper and Col. Bennett Griffin, aviation consultant, agreed that the projection made by Systems Analysis and Research Corp for the Civil Aeronautics Board regional airport hearing were not long-range enough, covering only the 1963-67 period.

Their work will project the needs and growth to 1970 and to 1975.

Col. Griffin stressed that airports should be built in advance of the needs rather than after the needs have developed.

He cited three new developments in aviation which will affect local airports. These are the all-cargo plane which has great possibilities in a field that has hardly been touched, the jet plane for feeder airline service and the supersonic transport — one that will go 8,000 miles.

Col. Griffin indicated it will not be uncommon for jet planes on feeder airlines to make 25-mile hops between airports. This already is being done in Florida where jet planes will land at Fort Lauderdale on flights starting northward from Miami.

Analyze Facilities

In addition to analyzing the data regarding present and future air transport service in the area, the firm agrees also to analyze the present air transportation facilities in the county as to runways, navigation aids, lighting, marking, taxiways and aprons, terminal building facilities and parking area, access and service roads, meteorological conditions, evaluation of the site as to development, zoning, possible expansion, to other nearby airports and to evaluate the airport in terms of FAA safety standards.

It also will determine the facilities required to meet the projected air transportation service needs of the county, preparing a master plan to guide in any future airport development.

Cost of the survey will be $12,500. If additional work is required than that agreed upon, this will be added to the cost. Work will be completed within four months of the contract signing, which is expected to be early next week.
